Concepts, Consistency, and Success

The Times of India edition dated February 17, 2025 featured an insightful article on Informatics Practices-Board exam preparation by our teacher and student.

'Conceptual clarity is key to informatics practices'

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Jaipur: Informatics Practices (IP) is more than a subject—it's a foundation for understanding programming, data management, and networking. As board exams approach, Bejoy Varghese, an Informatics Practices teacher at Brightlands Girls Senior Secondary School, is guiding students with a well-structured strategy. "Conceptual clarity is key, and rote learning is not

TIPS FOR STUDENTS

- Practise coding daily
- Solve past years' question papers regularly
- Focus on SQL queries
- Revise key concepts smartly

BOARD GAME

the way for IP as the subject is all about application. If you understand programming concepts, solving problems becomes easier," he said and advised students to practise Python programming by writing and executing code rather than just reading it. Debugging errors and working on small projects can sharpen logical thinking," he said.

The theory paper carries 70 marks, while the practical exam is worth 30. High-weightage units like Database Query using SQL, Data Handling with Pandas, and Data Visualisation account for 25 marks each. "If students focus on these areas strategically, they can maximise their scores," he said.

"Single-row and multiple-row functions, relational database concepts—these must be practiced hands-on," he emphasised. Similarly, he stresses the importance of mastering Data Handling and Visualisation.

'Solving sample papers daily helps boost speed, accuracy'

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Jaipur: The habit of solving at least one sample paper every day works wonders for students preparing for class-12 board exams. It helps them improve speed and accuracy, they said.

Unnati Shekhawat, a class-12 student at Brightlands Girls Senior Secondary School, said she believes consistent practice is the key to success in board exams.

For informatics practices (IP), Shekhawat said she practises both small and lengthy codes daily. If she faces difficulty with the lengthy codes, she breaks them into smaller parts to understand them better, she said.

"My approach goes beyond just writing codes as I execute them on my laptop daily. This practice enhances my logical thinking and problem-solving skills," she said. She added that she follows a disciplined study schedule, dedicating eight to 10 hours daily to her subjects. "Out of this, I allot two hours exclusively for IP, reinforcing both practical and theoretical concepts," she said.

Honouring a Legacy of Dedication and Excellence

“As we bid farewell to those who have given so much, we remember that their legacy remains forever.”

On February 8, 2025, the faculty members came together to honour three remarkable educators—Ms. Anju Sharma, Mrs. Kanta Rajan, and Mrs. Bhairvi Jha—at a heartfelt farewell ceremony marking the close of their long and distinguished careers in education. ## Empowered Women, Empowered World

Every year on March 8th, the world celebrates International Women's Day—a day dedicated to recognising the achievements of women and promoting gender equality. It is a day to honour the contributions of women in various fields and to remind society of the ongoing struggle for equal rights and opportunities.

Throughout history, women have played a significant role in shaping the world. Scientists like Marie Curie made groundbreaking discoveries, while leaders like Indira Gandhi and Margaret Thatcher proved that women can lead nations with strength and wisdom. Sports legends such as PV Sindhu and Serena Williams have inspired millions with their dedication and excellence. From writers and artists to doctors and entrepreneurs, women have made remarkable contributions, proving that determination and talent know no gender.

However, despite these successes, challenges still exist. Women in many parts of the world continue to face discrimination, gender pay gaps, and limited opportunities. Many are still denied education and basic rights. Women's Day is not just about celebrating achievements; it is also a call for action to ensure that every girl and woman gets the respect and opportunities they deserve. True progress is achieved only when no one is held back because of their gender.

As students, we can contribute to change in many ways. We can support and respect the women around us, our mothers, teachers, and friends. We can stand up against unfair treatment and educate ourselves about gender equality. Encouraging girls to follow their dreams, whether in science, sports, leadership, or any other field, helps create a more inclusive and fair society.

Women's Day is a reminder that the fight for equality is not just for women—it is for everyone. A world where both men and women have equal opportunities benefits all of society. So, this Women's Day, let's celebrate the achievements of women while also working towards a future where every individual, regardless of gender, has the freedom to reach their full potential. Because when women rise, the world rises with them.

Inklings and Insights

ADIEU

"Adieu to the Comfort of Known HALLS "
 Halls, that whispered our name,
 Through moments of triumph and times of trial.
 A rollercoaster ride, both wild and free,
 Now etched in my heart, forever to be.
 Teachers, so patient, with pens in their hands,
 While we doodled in notebooks, making "plans."
 They tried to teach wisdom, we tried to stay awake,
 But somehow we made it, for memory's sake!
 With gratitude we stand, for the lessons you gave,
 Guiding our footsteps, steadfast and brave.
 Friends who stuck by through chaos and pranks,
 Late-night chats and questionable ranks.

Lifelong companions, who'll always remain,
 A bond that will echo, like the sweetest refrain.
 We laughed, we cried, we maybe got lost,
 But in the end, it was worth the cost.

Lifelong companions, who'll always remain,
 A bond that will echo, like the sweetest refrain.
 Looking back, I see my journey so bright,
 Each moment a lesson, each struggle a light.
 So here's to the memories, both bitter and sweet,
 To lessons learned and friendships deep.
 Adieu to the journey, the good and the mess—
 We part with respect, and a heart full of zest!

The India Within

To look at Taj Mahal with an amazed stare,
 Tourists from all over the world come here
 A country so divine,
 With food so fine
 I love the fact that I was born where,
 People treat each other with so much care.

Dal- Bati, Jalebi- Fafda and the rest,
 Are the tastiest dishes from the west.
 The dance forms here, are the best,
 And Bharatnatyam is the earliest.

It was called the Golden bird,
 A place where unity and peace occurred
 India isn't just a word
 It's an emotion that's felt, not just heard

A Path Unknown

Life moves gently, like a stream,
 Flowing past each broken dream.
 Once we had a brighter view,
 But now the days are just passing through.
 The sky was once a canvas wide,
 Now it's just a place to hide.
 The things we chased, the dreams we sought,
 Now feel like battles that can't be fought.
 The fire fades, the memories cool,
 Leaving us to play the fool.
 We walk along a silent shore,
 Knowing we can't ask for more.
 Life is quiet, life is slow,
 Just a path we've never known.

First Steps to Final Bow

My journey at this school has been one of immense growth, self-discovery, and transformation. From a shy Kindergarten student to a confident Head Girl, I've evolved significantly. My earliest experience was participating in an interschool fancy dress competition in Class 1, where I won the best dialogue delivery award. This sparked my passion for cocurricular activities.

As I progressed, dance became a particular interest, thanks to our dance teacher's mentorship. She encouraged me to express myself creatively and supported me during challenging moments. By Class 11, I was ready to take on the student council. I presented my ideas confidently and was chosen as Head Girl.

However, it wasn't easy. I faced hesitation and fear when presenting unconventional ideas. Our Math teacher helped me balance creativity with practicality, while our Vice Principal offered guidance and solace. Her wisdom and humour made every conversation enriching.

I'm grateful to our Principal Ma'am for instilling in us the importance of aiming high. This school has shaped me into a confident individual, providing a platform for growth and dreams. From a shy girl to a confident Head Girl, I owe it all to Brightlands. This school will always be my second home, and I'll carry the memories and lessons with me forever. Thank you to every teacher, mentor, and friend who made this journey possible.
